

Endorsements of the Nonviolent Communication process

in Personal and Professional Relationships

“Marshall Rosenberg provides us with the most effective tools to foster health and relationships. Nonviolent Communication connects soul to soul, creating a lot of healing. It is the missing element in what we do.”

- Deepak Chopra, author, How to Know God and Ageless Body and Timeless Mind

“Marshall Rosenberg’s dynamic communication techniques transform potential conflicts into peaceful dialogues. You’ll learn simple tools to defuse arguments and create compassionate connections with your family, friends, and other acquaintances.”

- John Gray, Ph.D., author, Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus

“I believe the principles and techniques in Nonviolent Communication can literally change the world, but more importantly, they can change the quality of your life with your spouse, your children, your neighbors, your co-workers and everyone else you interact with. I cannot recommend it highly enough.”

- Jack Canfield, author, Chicken Soup for the Soul Series

“Dr. Rosenberg has brought the simplicity of successful communication into the foreground. No matter what issue you’re facing, his strategies for communicating with others will set you up to win every time.”

- Anthony Robbins, author, Awaken the Giant Within and Unlimited Power

“In Nonviolent Communication you will find an amazingly effective language for saying what’s on your mind and in your heart. Like so many essential and elegant systems, it’s simple on the surface, challenging to use in the heat of the moment and powerful in its results.”

- Vicki Robin, co-author, Your Money or Your Life

“Many books on communication are strong on theory but impractical on application. Marshall Rosenberg’s instant classic is the stand-out exception. It is clear and compelling in its logic and flat-out inspiring in its inviting exposition of usable techniques and strategies. If this book is read by enough people, the world will transform.”

- Hugh Prather, author, The Little Book of Letting Go, Shining Through, and Morning Notes

“We know that when people learn to communicate effectively with each other, their lives and their relationships can be truly transformed. This book gives people both a way of expressing their needs congruently and non-blamefully and a way of listening so others feel not just heard, but understood.”

- Dr. Thomas Gordon, author, Parent Effectiveness Training

“I highly recommend Nonviolent Communication to anyone interested in resolving conflicts, creating more intimate relationships, or exploring the connection between language and violence.”

- Kate Lin, reporter, The New Times

“Rosenberg describes how, in numerous conflicts, once ‘enemies’ have been able to hear each other’s needs, they are able to connect compassionately and find new solutions to previously ‘impossible’ impasses. If you want to learn ways of more skillful speech I highly recommend this clear, easy-to-read book.”

- Diana Lion, Buddhist Peace Fellowship, Turning Wheel Magazine

“Nonviolent Communication is a powerful tool for peace and partnership. It shows us how to listen empathically and also communicate our authentic feelings and needs. Marshall Rosenberg has a genius for developing and teaching practical skills urgently needed for a less violent, more caring world.”

- Riane Eisler, author, The Chalice and the Blade, Tomorrow's Children and The Power of Partnership

“In addition to saving our marriage, Marshall’s work is helping us to repair our relationships with our grown children and to relate more deeply with our parents and siblings. Marshall has shown a way to not only live, speak and act nonviolently, but a way to do so without sacrificing or compromising yourself or others.”

- A reader in Arizona

“My relationship with my husband, which was good already, has become even better. I have taught the method to many parents who have reported having gained a deeper understanding of their children, thus enhancing their relationship and decreasing tension and conflict.”

- A reader in Illinois

“Perhaps I’ve benefited the most from this tools in how I’ve applied it to my own self-talk — my inner dialog. It’s helped me to translate judgments and self-criticisms, so that I could see what was the life-connected impulse they were coming from. Then it was easy and joyful to change without any ‘shoulds.’ I can’t say enough good things about my experience with this tool.”

- Alan Seid, Vipassana, Bellingham WA

“Relationships with our children, spouses, parents, loved ones, and people in positions of authority often tend to ‘trigger’ emotional reactions, which seem out of proportion to the immediate stress at hand. Nonviolent or Compassionate Communication offers a way for us to practice being mindful of our emotions with the focus of attention on our use of language and communication.”

- Bruce Eisenoff, M.D.

“I am sure that each time I read this book, I will become better at empathetically responding to people who up to now I had decided were too toxic to deal with.”

- Carmen Matthews, San Diego CA

“Without an ounce of hesitation, I can say this book and these ideas have had a profound, deep, and lasting impact on my life, improved my relationships, increased the clarity and consciousness with which I use language, and strengthened my intention to live a loving, compassionate life.”

- Mark J. Goodman

“Nonviolent Communication is a simple process that eliminates the competitive, adversarial, and violence provocative style of communication that has infected most of our lives.”

- Chuck McDougal, book reviewer

“Nonviolent Communication has catalyzed a process of clarification/healing/empowerment in me that I could never have imagined. This process has impacted every area of my life, and continues to unfold. For me, it unifies the spiritual truths I’ve found in all the world’s religions. It facilitates and strengthens connections to others and its truths are experientially testable.”

- A reader in Florida

“Nonviolent Communication allowed me to overcome my toxic conditioning and find the loving parent and person that was locked inside.”

- A nurse in California
